To: Public Disclosure Commission

Subject: Complaint of violation of RCW 42-17-501(2) and WAC 390-18-010 (1)(4) failure to include "Notice To Voters:" and "Top Five Contributors", and failure to file reports with the Public Disclosure Commission.

This is a formal complaint against Concerned Citizens against eminent domain, P.O. Box 466, Port Orchard, WA 98366. This group placed an independent political advertisement supporting the election of Jack Hamilton for Kitsap County Commissioner, District 3, in the Central Kitsap Reporter on 9/13/06 (see ad attached). Further I can find no listing for this group in the PDC database indicating that they have not filed required reports.

Due to the short time frame to the general election this complaint and copies of the ad is being forwarded via fax, with original being sent via mail on 11/2/06.

I note for the record that this ad, in violation of several laws and regulations, is a fait accompli. Issuing a warning letter not to repeat the violation does nothing toward curing this violation or removing the harm done to the other candidate in this race, and thus defeats the purpose of having a public disclosure law. This is especially true if the person(s) involved in the above named group are the same ones who placed ads under a different name but at the same address in my previously filed complaint.

I request to be kept informed on the processing of this complaint and any outcomes.

Sincerely,

James E. Sommerhauser
